

2015 Update: Our impact in Cobocol, Haiti

In Cobocol, youth are learning skills in carpentry for a more promising future. There are few industries or other means of survival in the community, so families live off farming, growing corn, peas, and bananas, or raising small animals.

Production is not very good, but farmers do not have the knowledge and resources to improve their yield. Most do not earn enough to provide for their families' basic needs, and droughts and natural disasters make matters worse for vulnerable families.

Many youth would travel to the Dominican Republic to find a profession that would meet their needs. That's why World Vision set up a carpentry shop for youth in the community. Today, youth are glad to have a profession that allows them to stay in the community.

Thank you for showing God's love to people living in the community of Cobocol

*Learn to do good.
Seek Justice.
Help the oppressed.
Defend the cause of the orphans.
Fight for the rights of widows.
(Isaiah 1:17 NLT)*

Thank you!

Due to the generosity of FreddyLink, together we were able to accomplish the following in the Cobocol, Haiti:

1,000 children, expecting mothers and community members were immunized against preventable diseases.

650 students have the support they need to learn, thanks to help with school fees and supplies like books and uniforms.

---

780 community members have safe water for drinking and cooking, thanks to newly installed and restored water systems.

---

32 teachers were trained in updated learning methods, helping to improve the quality of children's education.

---

130 children are growing stronger thanks to nutrition rehabilitation and trainings that teach families to prepare more balanced meals.

*In this second phase, you are helping to monitor our progress. More families are involved, leading local projects to improve living conditions for children. Together, with your generous support, children and families in Cobocol will continue to create real and lasting change. We are deeply grateful for your compassionate and generous support.
